

INVITATION

// WORKSHOP

SIGNALING IN MARKETS, AUCTIONS AND GAMES: A MULTIDISCIPLINARY APPROACH

22-23 MAY 2019, PARIS, FRANCE

12 PLACE DU PANTHÉON, 75 005, PARIS

The Panthéon-Assas University hosts a workshop about Signaling in Markets, Auctions and Games on 22–23 May 2019. The workshop will bring together researchers from different fields (economics, biology, mathematics, linguistics) using different approaches and diverse methods that give rise to similar technical problems. The event will feature presentations by invited speakers as well as discussions of the presentations.

PROGRAM

The workshop will take place over two days. The program is available at <https://signaling.u-paris2.fr/>.

SPEAKERS

- Heather Burnett, CNRS, Paris Diderot University
- Francesc Dilme, University of Bonn
- Françoise Forges, Paris Dauphine University
- Francesco Giovannoni, University of Bristol
- Sander Onderstal, University of Amsterdam
- Josef Hofbauer, University of Vienna
- Christina Pawlowitsch, Panthéon-Assas University
- Martin Pollrich, University of Bonn
- Joel Sobel, University of California San Diego
- Nora Szech, Karlsruhe Institute of Technology
- Minus van Baalen, Ecole Normale Supérieure
- Robert van Rooij, University of Amsterdam
- Péter Vida, University of Cergy-Pontoise
- Bernhard von Stengel, London School of Economics

ORGANIZERS

- Olivier Bos, Panthéon-Assas University
- Christina Pawlowitsch, Panthéon-Assas University

REGISTRATION AND CONTACT

If you would like to attend, please register on the website. If you experience any difficulties, please contact Olivier Bos (olivier.bos@u-paris2.fr) or Christina Pawlowitsch (christina.pawlowitsch@u-paris2.fr)